GOOD LOSERS

Two AFLCIO unions lost a recent National Labor Relations Board election involving 19,475 workers in the pulp and paper industry in California, Oregon and Washington.

The outcome was decisive: 14,488 for the unaffiliated Association of Western Pulp and Paper Workers, and 2,609 for the AFLCIO Papermakers and the AFLCIO Pulp and Sulphite Union, which had formed the United AFLCIO Pulp and Paper Organizing Committee.

There has been a lot of jurisdictional conflict in this industry. The AWPWW was formed three years ago and won a foothold because of discontent with the less-than-militant policies of the two AFLCIO unions.

The recent campaign of the two AFLCIO unions to regain their lost territory was hard-fought, and feelings were strong. But an admirable plea for labor unity was issued immediately following the defeat by C. A. (Cash) Price, director of the AFLCIO organizing group.

Price said, in part:

"First, we urge the supporters of the Pulpworkers and Papermakers to close ranks with the AWPWW supporters so that a united effort can be brought to bear against the workers' real opponent, the employer, in the important upcoming negotiations. We have said throughout this campaign that major gains are due the workers this year on the West Coast. The workers must join together to secure the contract gains they have earned and deserve."

This statement by Price is in accord with the best traditions and highest principles of organized labor.

With this responsible spirit of competition, the 19,475 workers can be pretty sure of a vigorous defense of their union rights — no matter which union or unions represent them.

FULL OF HOLES

A New York congressman says it's ridiculous for the National Rifle Association to have tax-exempt status as a "social welfare organization."

The NRA recently suggested that citizens in riot-threatened cities arm themselves. This would be an open invitation to street battles between Negro hoodlums and white vigilantes, defying the law, imperfect as it is, and threatening the lives of thousands of innocent citizens.

This ill-advised proposal contributes to nobody's welfare — social or otherwise. The New York congressman seems to have shot the rifle association's dangerous idea, as well as its tax-exempt status, full of holes.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Unions will find notices of important meetings called by their officers on page 6 of this issue of the Journal.

Groulx unopposed for Labor Council secretary

Carmen seek state help on holdups

TWO-WAY RADIOS were installed in AC buses recently, largely under pressure from Carmen's 192 following a series of holdups and the fatal shooting of a driver two years ago. But the transmitter in his bus didn't help Division 192 member James S. Jensen, 58, whose report of two suspicious men on his bus went unheeded. AC Dispatcher John W. Hacking told Jensen to "keep on driving." Jensen was beaten and robbed of $95. In the picture, a two-way radio is demonstrated by Division 192 member R. A. Armas. The picture was taken for AC Transit to publicize the radios before the holdup-beating took place.

Unions call BART proposal too low

Opposition to a minimum wage of $2.75 an hour for maintenance work for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District was voiced by the Alameda County Building Trades Council last week.

The council went on record against the minimum wage, which it felt is too low for some types of maintenance work.

Laborers are organizing BARTD maintenance workers and will seek better than $2.75 for them, it was reported to the council by Tony Schiano, business representative for Laborers 304.

SUPPORT FOR STRIKERS

The Building Trades Council voted to continue its support to the Central Labor Council in the strike by Teachers 1735 at the Camp Parks Job Corps Center near Pleasanton.

Richard K. Groulx, executive assistant secretary of the Central Labor Council, had appeared before the BTC Executive Board earlier to explain that the strike was triggered by the firing of four union officers.

The BTC's Business Representative J. L. Childers reported that culinary employees had returned to work at Parks. He said the reason was that Litton Industries, the operator of the Job Corps center, threatened to obtain a non-union catering contractor for its dining halls.

BTC AGREEMENTS

Business Representative Childers reported that Alameda County Building Trades Council agreements had been signed by the following contractors:

Fremont Electric Garage Door Co., Dave Ives, N&M Construction, Jack M. Taylor, Western Waterproofing Co., Johnson & Peterson, C.H. Roofing Co. and Smith & Michaels Roofing Co.

CLC votes to support striking Social Workers

The Alameda County Central Labor Council voted Monday night to support striking members of Social Workers 535 in Sacramento.

The Alameda County council will send letters to all its affiliates, explaining issues in the strike and asking financial aid.

Early deadline

Because Tuesday is a holiday, meeting notices and columns for next week's issue should be at the East Bay Labor Journal today (Friday).

Ask safety rule forcing dispatchers to call cops

Carmen 192 has asked the State Division of Industrial Safety to issue a safety order making it mandatory for AC Transit to phone police when a driver radios in asking for help.

This was reported by L. F. Bone, Division 192 president, after member James S. Jensen, 58, was beaten and robbed recently. Jensen had twice reported two suspicious men on his bus, but AC Dispatcher John W. Hacking told him to "keep on driving."

Bone also reported that Jensen had filed a $225,000 suit against Hacking, charging "willful neglect." Bone said the union is backing Jensen, although Hacking, a supervisor, is also a member.

Division 192 is in the middle of negotiations with AC Transit on a new contract. Concerning the holdup-beating, Bone declared:

"We intend to do something about it—we don't want it to happen again."

Teachers win right to vote at Parks Job Corps Center

Striking members of Camp Parks Federation of Teachers 1735 returned to work Wednesday after winning the right to vote on union representation in a National Labor Relations Board election on June 8.

Litton Industries, operators of the Job Corps center under a contract with the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity, agreed to the election at a NLRB hearing Tuesday, according to Richard K. Groulx, executive assistant secretary of the Central Labor Council.

Groulx said Litton turned down the union's request for a State Conciliation Service election last week but agreed to the NLRB vote under "pressure" from federal officials.

Attorney Victor Van Bourg and Groulx accompanied Local 1735 representatives at the hearing. Litton officials also agreed to accept returning strikers, and the union won its demand to use buildings at the center for after-hours union meetings.

"I think it is a real victory because they had said these people were fired," Groulx said.

Will be elected on white ballot at next meeting

Richard K. Groulx, executive assistant secretary of the Central Labor Council, was nominated without opposition to succeed retiring Robert S. Ash as executive secretary - treasurer Monday night.

The election of Groulx, who first became assistant secretary in 1956, will be a mere formality at the June 5 meeting.

Delegates voted without dissent to instruct Ash to cast a unanimous white ballot for Groulx.

Groulx was nominated by Ash, who has been secretary of the Central Labor Council for nearly 24 years.

'BEST COUNCIL'

Ash said that in his travels in many parts of the United States, representatives of a large number of international unions have told him Alameda County unions have "the best Central Labor Council in the U.S."

Expressing appreciation for the good treatment he has received from the council, Ash said "the only splits in the Central Labor Council have been over crossing picket lines."

Ash expressed the hope that his successor would have as good support from unions as he has had. He attributed much of the strength and unity of the council to large attendance at regular weekly meetings.

Ash then read a speech he prepared several years ago to nominate Groulx.

12 UNIONISTS

Groulx' nomination was seconded by 12 unionists: Joe W. Chaudet, Newspaper Guild 52; Russel Mathiesen, Retail Clerks 870; Arthur Triggs, Typographical 36; Dan McPeak, Electrical Workers 1245; Gunnar Benonys, Carpenters 36; Abe Newman, Chabot Teachers 1440; William Zarevich, Metal Polishers 128; Emil Scala, Carmen 192; Al Thoman, Carpenters 36; Norman Hall, Peralta Teachers 1603; Robert Luster, Laundry Workers 2, and Harry Lumsden, Shipyard Laborers 886.

Chaudet said he felt Groulx would continue the leadership which made the Alameda County Central Labor "a liberal, fighting and honest council, based on the principle of self-determination of unions."

He added that Groulx had spent "12 years in training" and worked long hours, including building an outstanding organization to support political candidates who are friends of labor.

No appeal planned to Supreme Court in bedcheck case

The Alameda County Board of Supervisors has dropped plans for appealing the Welfare Department's bedcheck case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Chances of getting a hearing in the nation's highest court on the case, which involves a former member of East Bay Municipal Employees 390, "are almost non-existent," according to County Counsel Richard Moore.

In March, the California Supreme Court upheld unionist Benny Parrish, ruling the Welfare Department's predawn raids on homes of aid recipients in 1963 were unconstitutional. The court ordered Parrish reinstated and awarded him back pay estimated at $12,000.

Parrish was fired for refusing to take part in the procedure.

At our last membership meeting, held this past week, the auditor's report for the quarter ending March 31, 1967, was read to the membership and approved as submitted. You will find a condensed report as recommended by the membership, in this issue of the East Bay Labor Journal.

Also at this meeting, action was taken whereby Business Representative William Weber, Sr. and Brother Dave Roberts will attend the 12th National Legislative Conference, to be held at the Hilton Hotel, Washington, D.C., June 11-15, 1967.

So that our unemployed members of this union may be better enlightened as to those members being dispatched to work and whether asked for by name or sent from the out-of-work list, the Business Office will make this information available weekly to the membership by posting the information on the union's bulletin board; also the out-of-work lists will show your true position on the list as the "will notify" and "sick" members' names have been placed on a separate list and attached to the back of the out-of-work list. When these "sick" or "will notify" members advise the office they are ready for work, their names will be placed on the availability list in its original place.

For those members who wish to take short jobs of five days' or less duration, you must sign the yellow sheet, also attached to the out-of-work list, and you then will be called on a first-in, first-out, basis. For any additional information, please contact the Union Office.

Our union's contractors have been notified again to place their requests for workmen between the hours of 8 and 10 a.m.; and for those members that are unemployed, it will be helpful to you if you would be at home or leave a message where we may contact you during those hours.

We have nothing new to report on C. F. Braun's Humble Oil Project, Benicia, but we do have some good news in respect to a new anhydride facility plant. This multi-million dollar manufacturing facility will be added to the Standard Oil Co.'s refinery at Richmond, already the largest oil and chemical complex in the West.

The Arthur G. McKee Co., national contractor, has been awarded this project, and engineering and design have already begun on this large project.

The new plant is scheduled to come on stream in the late summer of 1968.

Phthalic anhydride, a basic chemical in the manufacturing of plastics and paints is currently in short supply and great demand. The new facility will be built inside of the Standard Oil refinery property and will go up on Xylene street. The feed stocks will come from refinery production, and the new plant will be integrated with refinery production. As soon as complete information is received in respect to the starting date, manpower requirements, etc., you will be advised.

Our next membership meeting to be held will be June 1, 1967, at which time the election of officers, as indicated by your sample ballot, will be held. Also, the delegates to the past California Pipe Trades Convention, held in the City of San Diego, will submit their reports; so please plan to attend.

AFSCME, Local 371 'Info'

BY NAT DICKERSON

There is a constitutional amendment, introduced by Assemblyman Priolo (D-Fresno), I believe it is called Assembly Constitutional Amendment 41, or ACA 41.

If allowed to pass, this amendment would empower the Regents of the University of California to establish a Personnel Board on the Berkeley Campus. This board is to be composed of five members, none of them to be from the campus, but members are to be appointed by the Board of Regents.

Though we of the work force never come into direct contact with the Regents, the impact of their decisions is of paramount importance to all of us. We of Local 371 believe the Regents have done a wonderful job in making selection on the academic level; but as far as the non-academic employee is concerned, the Regents have been represented as cold, cruel monsters.

We of Local 371 are not saying this is a true picture, but whenever a crucial issue is brought up at a negotiating session having major pertinence to the local, we are always told: "It is against the policy of the Regents," or "it's against University policy."

If there is evidence controverting the above, we should like to be confronted with it. But so far, decisions we have met have been promulgated paternally, arbitrarily, and unilaterally. For these and other reasons Local 371 does not want to see a further extension of the Regent's power.

If they are aware that "sweat shop" conditions exist in some campus buildings, they have never admitted it. If they are aware of the increased workload imposed upon custodians by the expansion in use of buildings and facilities, they have ignored it. With plans for the new quarter system well on the way, no concern for the people most affected is being shown by the Regents.

Therefore, Local 371 is fearful of further expansion of the Regents' power as a threat to the concept of collective bargaining, and to unionism itself.

Again, for the third consecutive week, the Carpenters' out-of-work list dropped down—251 as of this Monday a.m., And again, we show an increase in job referrals, up a few to 118 the past two weeks.

Brother Al Thoman returned from three days at a very "hot" Fresno meeting: 101 to 104 degrees—a very important (to us as Carpenters) meeting, having to do with unemployment procedures, disability and job injury compensation filing.

I'm sure that in the days to come, you will all benefit in some way from his participation in this meeting.

Regret to report the passing of Brothers Thomas Mallin and Dave Atwood.

On the sick and injured list are Brothers:

Edwin Davis, recovering from a serious operation (no visitors allowed).

Paul Urch, up and around recovering nicely from a double hernia.

Yours truly missed last Thursday's union meeting for the first time in many meetings, due to bum teeth. They are being pulled, repaired and partial plates being made and installed. Seems like everyone I know has already had this done. It's rather painful.

Brother Gerald Van Bostel in his spare time is umpiring for the Little League at Palma Ceia Playground, Hayward, each Saturday, for the seven to 12 year old group and sometimes in the evenings at 6 p.m. for the senior group. Go out and cheer for him!

The Carpenter lass asks, "How come you're only carrying one 2 by 4 when the other men are carrying two?"

"Well," the Carpenter replied, "I suppose they're too lazy to make two trips like I do."

Did you know that a man goes on a diet so he'll look like he used to; a girl goes on a diet so the men will look like they used to.

Remember, your wages increase from $4.875 per hour to $5.205 effective the day of June 16, 1967, an increase of 33 cents per hour. Your workweek will also be reduced from a 38 hour to a 36 hour week, effective that same day. Your workweek will then end at 12 noon each Friday.

Apprentice rates also change on this date to the following:

60%	$3.12 per hour
65%	3.38 per hour
70%	3.64 per hour
75%	3.90 per hour
80%	4.16 per hour
85%	4.42 per hour
90%	4.58 per hour
95%	4.94 per hour
100%	5.20 per hour

Don't forget, Election Day Friday, June 16, 1967. See you at the next meeting.

you and your family should be thinking of taking a much-needed vacation. Since you are a member of the credit union, why don't you come into the office and arrange a loan for this occasion or to buy that car you and your family may need, or just come in and get information about the credit union. It is for you and members of your family to use.

If you do not care to borrow, you may buy shares, and this is just like money in the bank. You may deposit as little as $1.

Members of the board join me in wishing Mr. Jepson a speedy recovery. We need you.

Carpenters Credit Union

BY PAUL HUDGINS

New car finance at your credit union can save you many dollars in interest compared to letting the dealer write the contract.

Creck with your credit union and compare actual monthly payments. There is no way of knowing what they mean when they quote interest rates as "per cent."

One member got stung by a salesman who told him the interest was 4 per cent. His monthly payment was $8 higher than it would have been at the credit union on a 36 month contract. That's $288 he could have saved by going to any credit union.

Your credit union exists to save you money on cost of credit. We also have to encourage regular savings, because without steady savings coming in, we would have no money to lend.

Save something out of every full paycheck. It will be easier to borrow if you have a record of steady savings. You prove that you have some control over your spending and will be able to make loan payments.

Shop around, take your time and get the best deal you can get on a car, whether new or used. It's better to take a day off work than to lose $200 or more on the deal.

Get the truth from your credit union as to interest rates, the book value of your trade-in, etc. Join now, before you need a loan. It's a lot easier to get a quick emergency loan if you have been saving a little steadily. We have to give preference to established members over new members.

Lodge 284 asks raise in income tax exemption

The Machinists 284 Law and Legislation Committee is mailing letters to its congressmen and senators urging raising of federal income tax exemptions for dependents from $600 to $1,000, Chairman Tom Hunter told the Central Labor Council.

The committee is also asking members of the State Legislature to oppose Governor Reagan's anti-union proposals and urges other unions with law and legislation committees to do the same, Hunter said.

Contra Costa printing trades unionists push Leshner fight

Handbilling is continuing every Saturday at various shopping centers throughout Central Contra Costa County, asking the public not to patronize firms which advertise in the anti-union newspapers and shoppers of Dean S. Leshner.

These include the Contra Costa Times "Green Sheet," Daily Transcript, Central Shopper and Sun newspapers.

The Walnut Creek Police Department recently informed the Northern California Labor Unity Committee, which is distributing the handbills, that Simon's Hardware officials planned a "citizen's arrest" if handbilling continued in front of its Walnut Creek store.

Simon's contended the store was not covered by the law permitting handbilling by unions.

Bill to raise contract jobs in EBMUD killed

A bill to require the East Bay Municipal Utility District to have private contractors do certain work now performed by its own employees has died in a legislative committee in Sacramento.

The measure, Assembly Bill 823 by Richmond Democrat John T. Knox, was backed by building trades unions and contractors and opposed by East Bay Municipal Utility District Employees 444, as well as AFSCME Council 49.

called these and other "pressure tactics," the committee continued handbilling the store and said no arrests were made.

FCC COMPLAINT

The committee also accused Leshner of filing a complaint that radio station KWUN had violated the "fairness doctrine" of the Federal Communications Commission.

This, the committee said, was because the station carried commercials sponsored by the unity committee.

The committee said the FCC responded to Leshner's complaint with a three page document finding the radio station had not violated any of its rules.

Non-union "scabs" picketed the unity committee's pickets in front of Leshner's Concord and Walnut Creek plants recently. The committee is investigating whether the "scab" pickets' signs were libelous.

New CLC affiliate

The Patternmakers Association of San Francisco and Vicinity was accepted by the Alameda County Central Labor Council as a new affiliate Monday night.

Support reaffirmed

The Executive Council of the California Labor Federation, AFLCIO, has reaffirmed its support for the state's eight hour law for women.

Defeat may turn to victory, Brown tells Steelworkers

Defeat at the polls last November may turn into victory if people will put forth the effort to elect progressive candidates to oppose Governor Ronald Reagan's destructive program.

This encouraging view was put forth by the man Reagan defeated, former Governor Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, at a recent Steelworkers' conference in Los Angeles.

Commenting on the behavior of Reagan as governor, Brown added:

"Where Reagan's heart should be is a blue pencil that cuts deep into the needs of people."

RUNNING FOR COVER

Tom Consiglio, legislative coordinator for Steelworkers District 38, told the delegates:

"Too many legislators are running for cover after the last election. What labor must do is turn its numbers into positive votes in the elections next year to restore good government to California."

Wiretap bill

Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh (D-Los Angeles) has introduced an anti-eavesdropping and wiretapping bill which should be a model for the entire country, according to the American Civil Liberties Union of Southern California.

Watchmakers Local 101

BY GEORGE F. ALLEN

We have another member on the sick list. Donald E. Rainey, Watchmaker employed by Schnittspan Jewelers in San Jose, has been hospitalized and at this writing is still not able to return to work.

Carl Tissenbaum, Executive Board member of this local and employee of Milens Jewelers in Oakland, is still on the sick list. He has been at home, having been released from the hospital. We understand he is to re-enter the hospital for a checkup, after which time he will return to his home prior to returning to the job.

We look forward to being able to report that both of the aforementioned members have completely recovered and are back on their jobs, and are happy to report that Brother Gilbert Tavares is off the sick list and back to work.

Wanted: We have a request from two members for used watch repair benches in good condition. If you have one or know of the whereabouts of one or two such benches that are for sale, telephone the Union Office, 421-1968.

Are you willing to boycott the telephone company if rates are increased by 8 per cent? Governor Reagan told a press conference that a rate increase for Pacific Telephone is "indicated." San Francisco and other major cities are fighting the increase.

If such an increase should be imposed, this would cost the taxpayers more money than the money that he has tried to save by laying off personnel from the hospitals, engineering staff, etc. Would you boycott?

Sign your name below and mail here to the Union Office if you are opposed to this increase.

Remember, we turned in our credit cards in order to bring another large company around to terms!

NAME

ADDRESS

This week's mail brought another good letter from Brother John S. Elliott. Quote: "Dear Friend and Friends:

"I thought I'd drop you a few words to let you know I haven't forgotten you just because I can't get out to our meetings, or anyplace else except to the doctor by taxi once a week as far as that is concerned. Marvin, I like the idea of putting notices of our members who pass on to the, we hope, happier land. It gives us a chance that we can pay up before you have to send out cards on them and thereby saves a bit of postage for the union, too. It sure is a shame that more of our members don't get the idea on how cheap the insurance is through our Mortuary Plan. Really is, for when there is no death, there are no dollars to be paid out on it, and we have very few per year. The $2.50 to join, the $1.10 each time one goes on to life's other side is so very much less than any insurance company would even look at, much less take. There is no way of comparing them with each other. Our members should be helped to understand the first $2.50 is only so there will be funds to cover immediate pay-offs when one of our brothers passes on. From then on, there is no more, only the $1.10 for each one who goes on over the great divide. Here's hoping all of our sick brothers a speedy recovery and also for any of their loved ones who may suffer of any affliction. I also hope for the very fast improving of the employment situation and that all our members able to work may be very soon employed and stay so a long time to come."

"I am, yours very truly,
"JOHN S. ELLIOTT
Thank you, Brother Elliott, for your most welcome letter, and we wish you good health.

Congratulations to Brother A. W. Hammel, who has just been granted his 30-year International pension, which brings our total to 28 pensioners in Local 642.

Barbers 134

BY JACK M. REED

The final California State Association Hair Style Show in Fresno last Sunday drew over 200 people. There were five entrants in the apprenticeship contest, 18 entrants in the open contest and only three entrants in the championship competition.

Ray Ozenberger of the Ambassador Barber Shop took first place in the later, using Ralph Mulvihill as his model. Congratulations, Ray. On to Anaheim and the finals. That gives Virgil Patton's Ambassador Barber Shop two winning barbers.

Red Carter, our State Association secretary, gave me a rundown on events in Sacramento. It seems that our bill to eliminate the 99-centers has passed its first hurdle in the Assembly, which was the Governmental Efficiency Committee, and it now goes to the Ways and Means Committee.

Your State Association advocates still need postcards and letters to back them up. This is little to do for your own benefit. Write to your legislator in Sacramento. Do it now! Remember, the squeaking wheel gets the grease.

Don't forget to come down to the regular meeting Thursday, May 25. After our business meeting, where delegates will be nominated and elected to attend the State Convention, we will have a demonstration in hair coloring and style by Paterno Agustin. We need a subject. Does anyone want to volunteer?

Skywest Golf Course has put out an advertisement for Barbers and Bartenders to play golf, but Roy Woods, secretary of Culinary and Bartenders Local 823, has informed us that this outfit is unfair to union labor and would appreciate it if members of Local 134 would not patronize Skywest. Please cooperate.

The average union building trades hourly scale in the U.S. is $4.68 an hour, according to the U.S. Labor Department.

Retail Clerks Local 870

BY CHARLES F. JONES

DRUG DIVISION

Last August, you received a folder describing a new benefit (co-annuity option) for all drug employees covered under the Drug Pension Fund. To be eligible for the co-annuity option, you must be 35 years of age or older and have been working in the retail drug industry for at least 10 years. If you are interested in the co-annuity option, you must file before June 1, 1967. After that date, you may be required to furnish medical evidence of your good health.

FOOD DIVISION

With the assistance of all Retail Clerks unions in California, our sister Local 1288 in Fresno recently won a victory over Thriftmart, a large grocery chain. This company, represented by Robert K. Fox of the Los Angeles Food Employers Council, served notice on Local 1288 that they would not agree to the terms of the industry wide food agreement in the Fresno area, but instead intended to operate under substandard conditions. The union had no choice but to resort to economic action in Fresno, and subsequently they extended their activities to Thriftmart Stores in Bakersfield and Los Angeles.

As well as giving financial aid to Local 1288, Local 870 dispatched several of our representatives to Fresno and Los Angeles to assist. With the cooperation of the Teamsters unions, the company's warehouse in Los Angeles was closed down tight. This, along with concerted picketing of their retail outlets, caused the company to capitulate, and an agreement was signed.

In our opinion, however, this is only the beginning. Information we have received leads us to believe that Mr. Fox will shortly be representing some employers in Alameda County. We are also of the opinion that he may very well attempt to do here what he failed to do in Fresno. Local 870 has a good food contract, and the entire industry in the county is organized. We intend to keep it that way.

As you are aware, our food agreement will expire on March 1, 1968. We will have to make additional improvements at that time. With the employers organizing into powerful groups, and with Mr. Fox's entrance into the scene, this in all probability will not be easy. We cannot be caught unprepared. We must anticipate that we may have problems. Our members must be prepared to meet any attempt by one or more employers to destroy our union.

Hi. Hippie and "Square," we're all in a "happening." Yes, you too. Few segments of society have been spared. Whether we like it or not, the "Love Generation" is! And hippies are!

Denying they exist is futile. We're involved. You and me, with "them." Actually, we're all kind of revolting. We, to them, and they, against us.

At issue is the now. They don't dig our dullness. We can't comprehend hippie aims.

Unquestionably, we are the parents. A source of life, sustenance and sorrow. In some respects, hippie ethics reflect our own. The transition from seed to individual finds children absorbing standards of values from parents.

If adults adulate lewdness; if profits pre-empt peace; if income is revered beyond honor, then hippies have a moral to their madness.

Hippies are the citizens of tomorrow. Parents are Establishment today. While hippies may beg, steal and borrow, none are inclined to obey.

And that's how it is in 1967. All over the land. Unions should take note, too. Members are younger. Unionism is a drag. Like parents, we are unable to communicate with our young. Despite a militant past, we have a dull present. And a dismal future.

If hippies can prod us into new energy, perhaps it's an ill wind that blows no good. Okay? Okay.

Ironworkers 378

GEORGE A. TAYLOR

To follow up from last week's issue, there were several items regarding your health insurance plan that I did not have space enough to mention. These items fall within two categories and are outlined below:

Items No. 1 and 2 come under the pension plan. They were covered to some extent in a previous issue and are enlarged upon at this time.

The International Union and the administrators of the Field Welfare Plan were working out a reciprocity agreement with the Negotiated Trust Funds throughout the International Association, where a member would be eligible to draw his pension after he had worked in several different district councils in the International Union, after accumulating a total of 25 years' pension credits, and after he was 65 years of age, but would not be eligible under any of the eligibility rules set forth by the pension plans.

Item No. 2: The California State Legislature has a bill pending, number 1513, that if passed would set our pension plan back a number of years and could reduce the monthly payments as much as one third. The pending bill has to do with vested rights; whereas if a member after working several years in the State of California, under our plan decided to leave the state or quit the Ironworker's trade, he would be eligible to draw out the money that had been paid in under the contract, and, of course, under this system our trust fund would not receive the money that had been earned by a member working in another jurisdiction outside of the State of California, who has come here to take up permanent residence and could be eligible under our plan after working 15 years.

The credits that he had previously earned would be a financial loss to the members and also the trust fund.

Item No. 3 has to do with the life insurance under Prudential Life through Blue Cross. The trustees were successful in raising the death benefit from $2,000 to $3,000, beginning June 1, 1967, and double indemnity of $6,000 upon accidental death.

We regret to announce that Brother Jim Faulkner passed away on Wednesday, May 10, after a long illness. He was a member of the Ironworkers Union for over 35 years and a member of Harbor Lodge No. 502, F&AM, Richmond, Calif. He is survived by his wife and four sons, Ronald and Thomas, both Ironworkers, and Richard and Jim, who have been serving in the Armed Forces, and a daughter Celia Lamm, who resides in Fresno.

Following is a sick list that the sick committee should investigate to see that no hardship exists:

Joe Holt, Thomas Hayes, Roy Armstrong, Norman Long, Alfred Slater, John Vess.

The California Ironworkers Field Vacation Trust has sent a list of all the Ironworkers who had outstanding 1965-66 vacation checks still on file in the Administrative Office as of May 3, 1967. Anyone wishing to inquire about this may call the Union Office.

The Union Office will continue to be open on meeting nights from 5 to 8 p.m. for the convenience of those members wishing to pay dues. However, there will be no meeting Friday, May 26, due to the long weekend, and the office will not be open on Monday, May 29.

The summer program for testing apprentice applicants has been established, and dates for testing are listed here for the convenience of those interested. The tests will be given at Merritt College in Berkeley at 2 p.m. in Room A18 on the following dates: June 29, July 13, Aug. 31, and Sept. 11, 1967. A test will be given at 3:30 p.m. on Aug. 17, 1967.

Not much progress

Testifying for new equal opportunity legislation, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said little progress has been made during the last three years in upgrading, promoting or hiring minority group members at higher levels.

TO THE OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF THE
STEAMFITTERS UNION LOCAL No. 342
2315 VALDEZ STREET
OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA 94612

We have examined the accounts and records of your Local Union for the quarter ended March 31, 1967. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and included such tests of the records and such other auditing procedures as we deemed necessary in the circumstances. The following summarizes information included in the accompanying statements:

Cash Balances December 31, 1966	$53,687.23
Receipts	$44,221.42
Disbursements	54,748.18
Cash Decrease	(10,526.76)
Cash Balances March 31, 1967	$43,160.47
Other Assets (Less Liabilities)	35,669.75
Total Assets	$78,830.22

The records are kept on a modified cash basis and dues receivable and prepaid are not accrued, nor are accounts payable or prepaid expenses.

The accompanying cash receipts and disbursements statements present fairly, in our opinion, the recorded cash transactions during the period under review. The Statement of Assets, Liabilities and Reserves, in our opinion, except for the items set forth in the preceding paragraph, presents fairly the financial position of your Local Union No. 342 as of March 31, 1967 on a basis consistent with that of the preceding periods.

Respectfully submitted

Farm workers need labor law protection

Farming in the United States was different in 1935—when supporters of the Wagner Act agreed to exclude farm workers from coverage in order to get the act passed.

Today, there are still many family farms. But each year the trend toward bigness increases. Agriculture is dominated more and more by a relatively small number of big corporate enterprises. At present, 6 per cent of the nation's farms—the big operators—pay more than three-quarters of the farm wage bill.

It is this multi-billion dollar industry which the Johnson Administration and the AFL-CIO are now seeking to bring under the National Labor Relations Act. The small family farms which are still in operation would not be affected.

Why do we now want NLRA coverage for farm workers?

Farm workers cannot now choose their collective bargaining representatives in elections, like the rest of us. Workers in every other industry whose products are shipped in interstate commerce have this right. Farm workers have been trying to get recognition for their union in the Delano area since 1965. With the exception of three large growers, they are still trying.

First, they asked for recognition themselves. Then they got clergymen and other influential citizens to ask for recognition for them. When this failed, the farm workers sought a State Conciliation Service election. This, too, failed. Each time, the growers would have nothing to do with union recognition. They wouldn't even consent to an election; they didn't have to because there was no law saying they did.

When all else failed, the farm workers struck. With National Labor Relations Act coverage, farm workers in Delano would not be on strike today.

In addition to union recognition, the farm workers want the same right the rest of us have to obtain relief from unfair labor practices by employers through the NLRA. With local law enforcement agencies and courts stacked against them, the farm workers now have nowhere to go.

Cesar Chavez, the director of the AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, gave some examples of harassment by law enforcement officials in testimony before the House Labor Subcommittee early this month. Unlike most people who appear before congressional committees, Chavez and his fellow unionists wore no suits or ties and had no prepared statements. Chavez told how law officers put $800 worth of parking tickets on unionists' cars in a three month period. He told how strikers were sprayed with pesticide, and police did nothing. He told how a picket was run down by a grower's truck, and the picket was charged with getting in the way.

Anyone who appeared at the union's meetings or on the picket lines was fired, Chavez said. And police and sheriff's deputies took pictures of pickets and of persons entering and leaving the farm workers' office.

Gilbert Padilla, a UFWOC leader in Texas, told how growers there were deputized and how 17 strikers were arrested for saying the Lord's Prayer.

Coverage under the NLRA would also reduce the divisive jurisdictional conflicts which have played into the hands of the growers. Lastly, coverage would permit fair procedures of collective bargaining to prevail for workers in our fields, as well as those in our factories. This is a peaceful way to settle disputes under law.

The farm workers' struggles — immortalized as a "Harvest of Shame" by the late Edward R. Murrow in a television documentary—have stirred this nation's conscience.

Now is the time to do something about it by writing to our U.S. senators and congressmen and insisting they pass the O'Hara Bill. This eminently fair legislation would make the National Labor Relations Act applicable to large farm employers and their employees.

Our next CLC secretary

Executive Assistant Secretary Richard K. Groulx was nominated without opposition Monday night to succeed retiring Executive Secretary-Treasurer Robert S. Ash of the Central Labor Council. Delegates then instructed Ash to cast a unanimous white ballot for Groulx at the next meeting.

This wise action by the delegates assures our outstanding Central Labor Council of continued vigorous leadership in defense of liberal trade union goals and principles and of continued strong and responsible political action on behalf of candidates whose programs will help us further these goals and principles.

Congratulations and best wishes, Dick Groulx. We're all with you.

AUTO INSURANCE COSTS MORE FOR CALIFORNIANS

From The California Consumer

Car owners who think they are paying too much for auto insurance have received dramatic confirmation of their suspicions in a recently released report of California's Department of Motor Vehicles.

Buried in the pages of the report are data, supplied by the insurance industry, which show that:

- Between 1959 and 1964 (the last year for which the report gives these figures), paid claims per car rose from $30 to $32—an increase of less than 7 per cent.

- But during this period premiums jumped over 25 per cent—more than three times as rapidly as claims paid.

- The accident record of California drivers actually improved during this time. There were fewer claims per 100 cars in 1964 than in 1959.

40% FOR CLAIMS

How much of your premium dollar is used to pay claims? Analysis of the report indicates the startling fact that in California the figure is 40 cents or less. The rest of the premium goes for the insurance companies' other expenses and profits.

Even more startling is the heavy discrimination against Californians. Higher premiums in relation to losses are charged here than in many other states.

The report — called "Report and Recommendations of the Financial Responsibility Study Committee" — shows the average premiums of several states for $5-10-5,000 coverage in January, 1966, based upon the accident year 1963.

The report also includes data from which the average paid claim per car in 1963 can easily be calculated. The contrasts are remarkable, as the following table shows:

State	Av. Jan. 1966 Premium Based on Accident Year 1963	Paid Claims per 1963
California	$ 81.46	$29.11
Maryland	73.61	31.61
New Jersey	70.43	32.25
New York	106.22	50.84
North Carolina	52.61	25.76
North Dakota	35.86	12.98
Virginia	55.32	28.51

Thus, in Maryland and New Jersey, claims are higher and rates lower. In Virginia, the claims costs per car is only 2 per cent below California, but rates are a stunning 32 per cent lower. Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus.

VIVID DISCRIMINATION

The extent of the discrimination becomes essentially vivid when paid claims in the foregoing table are considered as a percentage of the premium. Californians get the worst deal of any state studied by the Department of Motor Vehicles:

	Per Cent
Virginia	51.5
North Carolina	48.9
New York	47.9
New Jersey	45.8
Maryland	42.9
North Dakota	36.2
California	35.7

What does this discrimination mean in dollars and cents to the California driver?

If his premium were set on same basis as a New York driver's in relation to losses, the premium would drop from $81.46 to $60.81 — a saving of more than 26 per cent. And New Yorkers do not have the most favorable premiums in the country.

Commenting on the study, Secretary Robert Barton of the Association of California Consumers called of a thorough legislative investigation of California auto insurance rates.

"Analysis of the Motor Vehicle Department report confirms what many Californians have long suspected — that they are taking it on the chin when it comes to auto insurance, Barton said.

"Discrimination by insurance companies needlessly costs Californians more than $200 million a year," Barton said, "it is high time that the Legislature look into this — and put a stop to it."

They want work

A study just made public by the U.S. Department of Labor shows that most laid-off blue collar workers begin looking for a new job shortly after layoff. In fact, four out of 10 start looking within one day.

The average jobless worker was willing to take a job paying $65 a week, and a fourth would work for as little as $30 to $60 a week.

This shoots to pieces the old conservative propaganda that most of the unemployed really don't want to work.—OCAW Union News.

Right to strike

Seventy-seven per cent of the American people favor the right of unions to strike, a recent Louis Harris opinion poll shows.

The people are not too worried about transportation strikes, either. Seventy-one per cent say it is OK to strike airlines, and 69 per cent OK railroad strikes.

Only 48 per cent approve of strikes against government.—OCAW Union News.

DR. ROTH PLEDGES TO BE AT MEETINGS

Editor, Labor Journal:

I have just completed 13 weeks of campaigning for a position on the Oakland School Board.

The experience of campaigning for office (or working hard for a candidate of your choice) is one I recommend to every citizen because of the wonderful education thus obtainable, the personal involvement with so many dedicated and good people of various persuasions, and the glimpse of what goes on inside our representative government and behind the scenes of our great news media.

A few of my sharper memories culled from the kaleidoscope of "happenings" include: The outpourings of good will and support from thousands of individuals; the lying gossip spread by a few who speak of being moralistic but who have no qualms about breaking the commandment against bearing false witness; the fine people who show in so many ways that they care about honesty and good government and who place high priority on the education of each individual child in our public schools.

I therefore pledge to be at every the best hope for our troubled world lies in today's youth. In this campaign I have learned that heretofore I have not done as much as I could or should have to be an alert, informed citizen-helper to our school system, though I have had much prior involvement as a citizen, a doctor, a lecturer and a teacher.

It therefore pledge to be at every school board meeting I can possibly attend, and to continue to press for more open, honest communication between the Board and the citizens of the community. I do hope that the board incumbents will live up to promises made during the campaign and will have meetings at an hour easier for more citizens to attend, will publicize agendas prior to meetings, will disseminate complete minutes of meetings publicly, and will give comprehensive, specific, and understandable budget details to Oakland's taxpayers.

Thank you for your interest in the campaign and for this chance to express my gratitude to all those who helped make the campaign a lively and memorable one.

NO RETREAT

In my judgment, the election of 1966 in no sense calls upon the Democrats in the Senate to sound retreat from the exceptional record of the past two Democratic congresses.—Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

College teachers council condemns Vietnam policies

The California College Council of American Federation of Teachers, AFLCIO, has condemned present U.S. policies in Vietnam and called for a "military disengagement" of American forces there.

The council adopted a resolution charging that "the Johnson Administration has found it impossible to justify the United States presence in Vietnam."

The resolution also said the war "has seriously endangered constitutional freedom in the United States, as witnessed by the Administration's attempt to suppress dissent and equate it with treason."

The resolution added: "All these Administration actions constitute a totalitarian attempt to pervert our traditionally free and open society."

In addition to condemning American military policies in Vietnam, the council opposed the Johnson Administration's "menacing attempts to stifle all opinions concerning its policies except those in total agreement with them."

Automotive Machinists vote to remain in CLC

Members of East Bay Automotive Machinists 1546 have voted by a three to one margin to remain affiliated with the Central Labor Council, C. L. McMonagle, business representative, told the council.

CLC President Russell Crowell praised General Business Representative DeWayne (Bud) Williams and McMonagle for their efforts to keep Lodge 1546 within the council. He said they showed "good sense."

Local 3 to take boycott to Southern California

Office and Professional Employees 3 will take its boycott against the California Division of the American Cancer Society to Southern California again next Wednesday.

George Davis, assistant business manager, will be joined by Southern California members of the Office Employees Union in picketing the Los Angeles County Branch of the society.

On Thursday, they will picket Orange County and San Diego branches of the society.

Hospital Workers win representation rights in election

Hospital and Institutional Workers 250 has won an election to represent employees of three convalescent hospitals in Pittsburgh and Antioch, 48 to 3.

Business Representative Art Carter told the Central Labor Council the union was forced to strike because management would not agree to the election. The strike lasted two days, with management finally agreeing to hold the election this Monday.

The strike was against units of Rodmar Hospitals, Inc. They include Pittsburg Manor Convalescent Hospital, Cavallo Road Convalescent Hospital and Antioch Manor Convalescent Hospital.

Scholarship winner

Rita Dianne Jensen, 18, who will graduate at the top of her class at Rosemead High School, Los Angeles, has won one of six four year scholarships under the National AFLCIO College Merit Scholarship Program.

League of Women Voters asks more power for poor

The Oakland League of Women Voters has issued a report which sharply differs with Mayor John Reading on the city's anti-poverty program.

In a statement to the U.S. Senate Subcommittee on Employment, Education and Poverty, the league said many of the local phases of the anti-poverty program have not had enough participation by the poor in planning.

The league's report was based on a three year study.

Mayor Reading wants more control for City Hall.

In contrast, the league has called for funding procedures to make some of the local anti-poverty programs independent of City Hall. Most of the money comes from the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity.

The league said the poor "have a better knowledge of their needs and problems than anyone else."

It added: "It will give people a chance to take action on their own behalf. Neighborhood committees, like individuals, can learn better if they are free to make their own successes and failures."

Jobs to suburbs

The movement of new jobs into the suburbs is one of the main reasons for failure to match available jobs with available workers, according to an article in the Monthly Labor Review, U. S. Labor Department publication.

Why not pass this copy of the East Bay Labor Journal to a friend of yours when you are finished reading it!

Groulx to be new secretary of Labor Council; no opposition

Groulx declined to give "a speech" but said he would set forth his ideas when sworn in. He said he had not been prepared to win without opposition and thanked speakers for their kind words.

On Tuesday, Groulx told the East Bay Labor Journal he felt his selection was not a personal victory, but "an extension" of the administration of the council for the last 24 years. However, he emphasized that he was "very grateful."

Groulx was elected assistant secretary on Jan. 30, 1956, succeeding the late William P. Fee. Before that, he spent four years each as a business representative and organizer for Office Employees 29 and as an organizer for Teamsters 588. He was also on the staff of the Hotel, Restaurant and Bartenders Union in Hawaii for two years.

SECURITY PARACHUTE

In other business:

• Groulx reported that Assistant Secretary Wray Jacobs had been negotiating for a contract for the Upholsterers at Security Parachute and that the firm is resisting a union shop clause.

• Delegates approved a recommendation that they oppose compulsory arbitration of the rail shopcraft dispute.

• They also urged adoption of the Peralta Project by the Oakland City Council.

Farm workers not getting full share under disability program

Farm workers do not appear to be taking full advantage of the fact that they are covered by the state disability program—even though they pay the premiums, like all other workers.

This was revealed in a report on the first two decades of the disability program by the State Department of Employment.

Farm workers have been covered under the program since 1961.

"From 1961 through 1965," said Albert B. Tieburg, former state director of employment, "farm workers contributed a total of $23,700,000 to the disability fund and received disability and hospital benefits totaling only $11,700,000."

"Such things as health factors and sex and age differences between members of the agricultural labor force and other components of the labor force do not account for the fact that agricultural workers claim relatively less in disability benefits than do workers in general," Tieburg said.

LANGUAGE PROBLEM

Tieburg said language was apparently one reason farm workers do not take full advantage of benefits they have coming. He said his department has stepped up its information program among farm workers and is studying other aspects of the situation.

$2½ BILLION

During the last two decades, Tieburg said, all California workers covered under the disability program have received nearly $2½ billion in benefits. California is one of four states which pay non-occupational disability benefits in addition to workmen's compensation.

It is the only state which pays hospital benefits.

Currently, the maximum basic benefit is $80 a week and the hospital benefit is $12 a day for up to 20 days.

Workers pay the entire cost of disability benefits through a tax of one per cent on the first $7,400 in wages they receive each year.

Disability insurance was extended to self-employed persons in 1963. The program began in 1946.

Clerks end Sears boycott; organizing campaign planned

The AFLCIO Retail Clerks International Association has discontinued the general boycott against Sears, Roebuck & Co.

This action was taken on the decision of the RCIA's International Executive Board.

The union stated its determination to assist the thousands of Sears Roebuck employees who are "actively seeking the help of the Retail Clerks Union in organizing the stores in which they work."

A statement presented to the Executive Council of the AFLCIO contained an explanation of the reasons which motivated the RCIA Executive Board's decision.
